Flexible Future Spaces:

At sixteen3 our people-centric approach to products allows you to create workspaces built for longevity, which can adapt and evolve to encompass changing requirements & needs.

People are the most valuable asset in any workplace, they always have been and always will be.

Incorporating wellness and flexibility we offer the right elements to support the heart of every workspace. Healthy, happy and highly engaged employees require spaces which motivate to increase productivity and mix spaces to help create and build the all important social relationships at work. Multifunctional areas where we get together, whether for a coffee and a chat, to share creativities ideas or to announce the latest big company win to a quiet nook for a sensitive call or some focused work, right through to client facing meetings in either formal or relaxed areas – these are the spaces where we all excel, where teams are built and memories are made.

Join us as we explore these spaces, and show what they can really be.

The Lobby

First impressions count.

Create a welcoming entrance with a relaxed reception space to greet colleagues and visitors.

Calvert creates a delineation of space between visitor spaces and workspace whilst a 1000mm high setup doubles up as an informal reception desk, allowing for use by a greeter or self-check in technology.

An island of casual Lithos Lounge seating gives a stylish focal point to an open space, and gives visitors an area to relax whilst waiting to be seen.

Mix Space

The heart of the office.

Flexibility is key to this multipurpose space and the centre of the modern workspace.

Multiple seating options, from café-style Darcy chairs and stools to clusters of Hex make for a flexible, easily reconfigurable space.

Refreshment point keeps people going throughout the day.

A large landscape of Link seating, combining straight & curved elements, provides a main axis to the space, offering flexible seating options for individual groups or large teams.

Mix Space

This highly dynamic space can easily be re-arranged, with seating laid out to create a 'town-hall' meeting space for chance encounters, collaboration, knowledge-sharing and social events.

Lightweight furniture and units with castors keep the space agile.

Large AV screens allow for large group presentations.

Calvert is used to create a drinks station. Coffee by day, cocktails come night!

Mix Space

Four Person Bodyn pods provide breakout, meeting and working spaces. Castors means each pod can be independently relocated, acting as a way to break up the overall open space.

Single high back Army Lite pods can be used as individual spaces to take a phone call or have a breather, or moved into clusters for semi-private conversations.

The storage arms keep personal belongings in one place, and off the floor.

Share Space

Collaboration is key
Using technology to share ideas, regardless of geographic location.

The Adytum Space Media Table offers a semi-formal meeting and presentation space, with the poseur height facilitating standing meetings, for thinking on your feet.

A smaller Circe setup, combined with an Adytum Space Media Wall, is the perfect place for individual or small group video conferencing.

The welcoming angles and addition of privacy screens makes Circe a comfortable space to small group presentations, either in person or over video calls.

The AV unit and whiteboard surfaces on the facing Calvert wall provide the ideal focus points, aiding to convey ideas and share information.

The Library

Adytum Space Workbooths are the ideal retreat from the hustle and bustle of busy open plan spaces.

Full height work pods, made using Adytum Space, complete with ceilings and integrated lighting, help define space whilst provide semi-enclosed focus spaces.

The versatility of the Adytum Space space division system allows for numerous styles of enclosed focus pod, acting as visual and acoustic barriers to the distraction of open-plan workplaces.

Adytum Space touchdown desks give a sense of privacy, with the enclosed panels acting as a barrier to distractions.

Height adjustable Darcy chairs with castor bases offer a comfortable, stylish alternative to ergonomic task chairs for short-term desk work.

Resi-Lounge

Residential styling in the modern office.

The boundaries between office and residential design are blurring, and these areas provide soft, comforting spaces.

Lounge 1

Groups of mid-century inspired Gilbert chairs furnish this casual meeting and breakout space.

Natural materials, like oak, bouclé wool and leather, combine with softer styling options like button detailing for a relaxed, approachable feel.

Mindful Nest

Heathy body and healthy mind.

A multi-purpose space to facilitate activities that help staff stay positive.

Whether it's through organised classes, like yoga or meditation, or just to provide a safe retreat way from the desk for a few minutes of chillout time, the Mindful Nest provides space for staff to feel balanced and valued.

Adytum Space pods with benches, ceilings and lighting offer cosy seating nooks.

Calvert storage walls can be used for refreshment points and storing kit.

Large Pop stools provide flexible, easily reconfigurable seating.

Comfortable Odyssey chairs provide a space to lounge and take a breather. Adytum Space panels help to create a semi-enclosed space, away from noise and distraction.

Envision

Why be restricted to the boardroom?

Encourage collaboration and creativity in these playful, non-hierarchical meeting spaces.

Calvert creates an enclosed 'room-within-a-room', with flexible accessories able to be reconfigured as the space is in use.

A mix of loose furniture, such as Harold high stools, Pop seating and sit/stand Laptop Tables make for a dynamic space, with no pre-determined restrictive layouts.

Antespace

A place to relax, & a place to work.

Casual meeting spaces, social spaces or touchdown spaces, upholstered seating pods can do it all.

Circular Fuse pods make for comfortable alternative to a small meeting room.

Adding castors make it mobile, Each seating element can be easily moved so the pod can be rebuilt in a different location.

For instance, it can be moved into the Envision space for some extra comfortable seating.
